

POLITICAL POT IS ALREADY BOILING

Al Jennings and Other Democrats Planning to Run for Governor.

G. O. P. Expected to Get Together on One Man Before Campaign.

(By FRED RUSLING)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Nov. 25.—Politics at the state capital have returned to the simmering stage again, since the election, and Oklahoma's Washington delegation is preparing to return to the national capital where they will be called upon to deliberate on future legislation, including the Adamson bill, and what not.

Attention of Oklahoma politicians, and the parties, Republican, Democratic and others, will now be turned to the campaign two years from now when a governor and new state officials must be elected. While the minor offices are not being mentioned to any extent, the gubernatorial race is considered early, but the process of elimination is starting in. This elimination feature is always essential to the leaders, so they think.

Republicans Not Talking.
Different candidates have been mentioned. The Republicans have not been talking much about the election. It is possible they will follow out past programs very much and that when it comes time to announce the candidate only one will be mentioned, because they in the past have practically agreed on the man they want. But there are a number of Democrats in the state who would sacrifice themselves for the state for four years. Political "dope" is always spread in many angles. Arguments for this and that sometimes present peculiar situations.

Ferris Is Mentioned.
It has been known for some time that certain of his friends want Congressman Scott Ferris to be a candidate for governor. Others want J. B. A. Robertson to run again. Al Jennings has already announced, thru the press, that he would return and be a candidate again for governor of Oklahoma. It is said that since the latter announcement was made that Jennings has been backed up their belts a little tighter, for they know what a campaigner Al is. There may be others who will be mentioned later on. It is supposed Frank Herring of Elk City will "as usual," be in the race. He has not missed one since statehood.

Williams Not Popular.
The different lines, however, must because of political conditions among the Democrats, have considerable to do in the next campaign. That is a session of the legislature coming between. What will the next two years bring forth to the present governor? This will no doubt have a lot to do in the governor's race. There is no disputing his being disliked by a number of his party workers. His likes and dislikes are strong. He has taken every occasion possible to tell what he is doing in his administration, and how he has been working for the benefit of the people, but not all know the differences that have sprung up between his head and some of his party workers. This may not make so much difference now, but it may make considerable difference when the time comes to say who is going to be the candidate for governor.

May Support Ferris.
Indeed, the administration of Governor Williams may have a great deal to do with who is to be the candidate of his party for governor. If his administration proves satisfactory the man he indorses will have some start. If the people are not satisfied with what he says he is doing, his indorsement will be a disadvantage. There are those who say the governor has already signified that he would support Scott Ferris. The latter's time will be out again in two years. He knows that he can probably represent the people of the Sixth district as long as he wants to in congress. He is recognized as a wise man. Nothing is known from him about the situation except that he has run for congress every time the opportunity came, and seems to be pretty well satisfied at that. Whether he would give up his chances to go back there and be a candidate for governor, backed by the present administration, is another thing. This is a subject upon which he and his close friends may confer later.

On His Own Hook.
Under no conditions would J. B. A. Robertson solicit the indorsement of the administration, so friends of his say. If he is a candidate he will be supported by those who were for him before. Al Jennings, of course, will have his own following.

How Strong Is "Bob"?
The shot that has sprung up that Governor Williams could succeed himself has been discussed some. The idea contains some interesting speculations. It is all based on the proposition, however, that the administration of the governor is going to be so good that the people cannot do without him. The constitution provides that the governor cannot be elected to succeed himself. The Democratic platform of 1912 contained the same kind of provision, so far as succeeding oneself is concerned. Everybody knows what happened. Well, it is this way. The governor could resign near the end of his term of office and escape the provisions of the constitution on that subject. This idea is probably borrowed from the law in some of the foreign countries that when a ruler leaves his country, or his own jurisdiction, during his term of office, then his official term expires.

So that, after all, there seems to be a disposition to wait the outcome of the present administration; that it depends much on what the people think of it as to who will finally be in the race for governor on the Democratic ticket.

Howard Biding Time.
While his name has also been mentioned in connection with the governor's race, E. B. Howard, state auditor, says he is trying to conduct his office work as good as he can, and is not bothering himself just now in the matter.

"STOP WAR" MOVE IS GAINING MOMENTUM

Dr. David Starr Jordan a Speaker at New York Meeting Peace Workers.

NEW YORK, Nov. 25.—Further steps in a national "stop the war" campaign designed to crystallize sentiment so that any peace move which may be made by President Wilson will receive the united support of the nation, were taken here today by the formation of a New York branch of the American national conference committee. Similar branches are to be established thruout the country.

Dr. David Starr Jordan, who presided, enunciated the principles of the committee, which comprises one hundred prominent men and women, when he said:

"We men in all countries look to our nation as offering their only hope for a worthy ending of the war."

Two Shot and Killed.
BOONVILLE, Ark., Nov. 25.—Ned Land was shot and killed on the street here tonight, while Mrs. Alexander Amos was missed by a bullet that struck and seriously injured Todd Shepherd, a bystander. Alexander Amos, from whom Mrs. Amos has been separated, was held by the police, charged with the shooting.

NEGRO KILLED BY POLICEMAN YOUNG

Attempt to Draw Gun on Officer Turns Out Fatal for Cogswell.

"Tidius" Cogswell, negro, 34, was shot and killed in the Palm Garden, a negro establishment on Greenwood near Archer, at 1 o'clock Sunday morning by Patrolman Milton Young after he had made three attempts to draw an automatic pistol from his pocket. Failing in this, Cogswell, with the gun yet in his pocket, pointed the barrel toward the officer, who shot him squarely through the heart, the bullet piercing the body and passing through a soft pine door. Policeman Young also is a negro.

For several hours Saturday night, eye-witnesses to the shooting said, Cogswell had been swagging thru "Little Africa" as the looking for an argument. At midnight he began swearing and cursing in a loud tone. Patrolman Young cautioned him, advising him to go home. Cogswell refused, and returned an hour later, and in the Palm Garden took exception to the admonishing of the policeman. After telling Young that he intended running the "cheap nigger law out of the neighborhood," he well attempted to draw his gun and was instantly killed.

While the negro's body lay upon the sidewalk awaiting the arrival of a deputy sheriff, whose presence was necessary before the body could be moved, Cogswell's wife appeared on the scene, and with an outcry that echoed wildly in the dark, said "I'll be Africa," she threw herself bodily upon the still form of her husband. There will be an inquest Monday.

FINISH TESTIMONY IN OVERTON'S TRIAL

Wife of Defendant Is Star Witness; Self-Defense Is Plea of Slayer.

TESTIMONY was concluded today in the trial of David B. Overton, former Madison county clerk, court clerk, charged with the murder of Judge William T. Lawler, a political opponent, last June. Arguments of attorneys will be heard Monday and it is expected the case will go to the jury that afternoon.

Mrs. Overton, wife of the defendant, the principal witness for the defense today, declared that when Overton returned to his home the morning after Lawler was killed, his head and hands were badly cut and his clothes were marked with bloodstains. Overton testified yesterday that he shot the jurist in self-defense after Lawler had attacked him.

GENERAL FUNSTON IS RAPPED BY BAPTISTS

Evangelists Should Be Permitted to Preach to Soldiers, Says Church.

WACO, Texas, Nov. 25.—A resolution declaring that General Funston, in decreeing that preachers to soldiers on the border should not conduct evangelistic meetings because the soldiers were not "lost souls," "transcended his authority and committed an offense against the inherent and constitutional rights of American citizens," was adopted with acclamation by the Texas State Baptist convention in session here today.

The resolution was a thousand words long and was directed in its entirety against the mandate of the commandant of the United States forces on the border.
